- Ability to implement these policies to make the department function as a cohesive unit;
- Tact, courtesy, integrity and efficiency are required;
- The employee's physical and mental condition is commensurate with the demands of the position, either with or without reasonable accommodations.

PHYSICAL, MENTAL AND ENVIRONMENTAL DEMANDS:

Physical:

The employee must be able to sit for extended periods of time within a standard eight-hour work day. Other types of physical effort are minimal with the exception of the occasional requirement to lift boxes of license plates, office supplies and paper goods up to twenty pounds. The incumbent's visual acuity must be sufficient to enable him or her to see and accurately work with information on a computer screen or otherwise be able to accurately manage and manipulate information, using computer software and hardware systems, with or without reasonable accommodations. The employee's ability to hear and communicate (verbal or written) must be adequate to enable them to interact with customers as well as understand and carry out detailed instructions. The employee must possess a moderate knowledge and ability needed to utilize office equipment, including computer systems, inclusive of necessary software and operating systems, with or without reasonable accommodations. In respect to the physical demands of this position, there may moderate visual effort and repetitive hand/finger movements associated with the execution of the tasks delegated with this role. The employee must have the physical ability to manipulate a computer keyboard and other types of office equipment requiring moderate precision, manual dexterity, and operating knowledge/skill or otherwise demonstrate the ability to meet the requirements of the job. The risk of personal injury is minimal in this role.

Mental:

Mental factors include the ability to multitask and prioritize in a fast-paced front-office environment. Mental focus and the ability to offer calm leadership while in a separate physical location from the County Clerk or his/her Deputies is required. The employee will need the aptitude to understand law and regulatory requirements as it relates to the motor vehicle licensing functions. The employee must possess a solid intellect and a good memory. It is necessary for an employee to keep track of details. He or she must have the ability to concentrate and make logical and informed decisions multiple times on a daily basis. This work may involve considerable demands from tight deadlines, rush orders and/or frequent exposure to distressing human situations.

Environmental:

Environmental factors include the ability to work closely and cooperatively in close physical proximity with staff and customers of the DMV. There will be minimal travel and networking outside of the office environment. The work entails minimal exposure to disagreeable conditions. The employee may at times work alone. A great majority of the work is performed indoors in a temperature-controlled environment, so excessive heat, cold, dust, dirt, grime, humidity, noise, etc., are not factors that are significant to this job.
